

JOIN US IN INSPIRING HOPE

As our society faces enormous challenges like the crises of climate and inequality, hope can be hard to find.

Since the birth of the environmental justice movement, people of faith like Dollie Burwell and the Rev. Benjamin Chavis, Jr. have generated and inspired hope by taking action.

The vision of the UCC Climate Hope Campaigns is to match the scale of the crises faced with widespread, coordinated advocacy at the federal level of the U.S. government.

One of our greatest strengths is our deep local roots in communities across the country: rural, suburban, and urban in red, blue, and purple states.

Our strategy is to engage in catalytic person-to-person movement building. Through a virtuous cycle of invitation, we personally invite community members to join a growing movement in which they also become ambassadors inviting still more to join.

In 2024, our goal is to invite as many people as possible to take the Climate Hope Voter Pledge and ask others to take the pledge as well.

The pledge is an act of hope for present and future generations. It is a commitment to a just and equitable world for people of all ages, races, and walks of life.
